ANNOUNCEMENT Ten Guest Lectureships Available for 2010

The Dermatology Foundation is proud to announce the 2010 Leaders Society Guest Lectureship Program. Guest Lectureship Applications are now available for state or regional dermatological associations.

Galderma Laboratories has once again provided a generous educational grant to support the Lectureships. This popular program focuses on the partnership between members of the Dermatology Foundation and industry by presenting basic and clinically relevant dermatological research and education programs.

Please note the following:

- Lectureships will be available to 10 eligible dermatological societies in 2010.
- The funding provides a $500 honorarium and approved travel expenses.
- The lecturer is selected by the societies' meeting planners from a list of speakers provided by the Dermatology Foundation.

Over the past decade, the Guest Lectureship Program has been hosted by more than 100 state societies/associations around the country and has resulted in the growth of Foundation support from individual dermatologists. The program has proven to be a clear example of industry's commitment to research that furthers improved patient care.
