2025 Practitioner of the Year Award

The Practitioner of the Year Award was established by the Dermatology Foundation in 1976 and is given each year to a member of the specialty who demonstrates exemplary service as a practitioner, teacher and/or researcher, and is active in other professional organizations, especially dermatologic organizations.

Award Qualifications

1. Quality of dermatologic practice as measured by the duration of practice, receipt of continuing education awards, citation of any recognition by hospitals or patients.
2. Participation in medical teaching at any level (undergraduate, medical, nursing, graduate, postgraduate).
3. Participation in research.
4. Participation in other professional societies, especially dermatologic organizations.
5. Publications.
6. The major criteria for selection would be consideration of the contributions made by the individuals as a clinical practitioner.
7. Individuals who have spent a considerable amount of time in full-time academic dermatology are not eligible for this award.
